Respect is being careful and thoughtful with other people. Parents and children show respect with kind words and actions. Respect helps everyone feel welcomes, comfortable and safe. Here are a few ways that people show respect at school.

Respect is carefully helping another person. There are many ways people in a school help each other. If someone in my school is carrying lots of books, I might be able to help. I could say, "Can I help you carry these books?"

Respect is using kind words with a gentle voice, often with a smile, too! When teachers read to children, they use a gentle voice. Many students feel comfortable and safe when their teachers read to them.

People keep learning about what respect is as they grow. They learn how respect looks and sounds. They learn how to use respect when working with others. My teachers and principals were children once. They grew up. They have been learning about respect for many, many years. If I have questions about respect, they may be able to answer them.

44. According to the passage,

- a. carrying someone else's books is showing respect
- b. being careful at school is not a kind of respect
- c. people never learn to respect as they grow older
- d. being respectful means having a gentle voice

45. The underlined word "They" in paragraph 4 refers to

- a. people
- b. others
- c. children
- d. teachers and principals

46. All of the following are mentioned in the passage EXCEPT that

- a. students feel comfortable when their teachers read to them
- b. teachers can answer students' questions about respect
- c. kind words and actions are used to show respect
- d. many students respect their teachers at school

47. Why does the writer mention "teachers and principals" in paragraph 4?

- a. To tell us that we can learn respect from them
- b. To mention how important they are at school
- c. To say that they should be respected more
- d. To show that they know what respect is
